MR. CLEPHANE'S FUNERAL

the Services.

Dr. Paxton's Tribute to the Qualities of the Dead Man-Floral Tributes of Exquisite Character.

The funeral of the late Lewis Clephane took place this morning at 11 o'clock from his late residence, corner of 13th and K streets northwest. There was a very large attendance, and before the services began a great number of persons who could not remain passed through and took a last look at the well-known features of the old and honored citizen. The body reposed in a heavy rosewood casket, a silver plate bearing the name and date of the birth and death of Mr. Clephane. The floral tributes were magnificent and numerous. The lower half of the casket was covered with a pillow of lilles of the valley, roses and violets, and at the foot was a bunch of palms and a sheaf of wheat. At the head of the coffin, resting on a stand, was a large bank of exquisite flowers, and around the funeral room were beautiful wreaths, clusters of calla and Easter lilies and banks of im-

The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. John R. Paxton, the former pastor of the New York Avenue Church, and an old and intimate friend of the dead man, assisted by Rev. Joseph T. Kelley. Dr. Paxton paid a feeling tribute to the noble qualities of Mr. Clephane and dwelt upon the character of his services and his loyalty to his duties as a citizen and a Christian. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Glenwood cemetery and there in-duties as a citizen and a Christian. At the conclusion of the services the remains were taken to Glenwood cemetery and there interred, the services being conducted at the grave by Rev. Mr. Kelley.

The honorary pallbearers were Henry A. Willard, John W. Thompson, A. M. Clapp, Col. Wm. G. Moore, Benjamin P. Snyder, George Pearson, Dr. Daniel McFarland, Goff A. Hall, Robert I. Fleming, Matthew G. Emery and H. O. Towles. The active pallbearers, all members of the National Union Republican Club, were Charles P. Lincoln, R. G. Rutherford, Dr. A. P. Fardon, B. F. Crawshaw, ex-District Commissioner John W. Douglass, Arthur Stabler, W. L. Bramhall and L. M. Saunders.

The immediate relatives of the dead man present were Mrs. Clephane, Miss Ella C. Clephane, Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Clephane, Mr. Alan O. Clephane, Mr. Lewis P. Clephane, Mr. and Mrs. James O. Clephane, Miss Julia Clephane, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Williams and Mr. C. A. Brandenburg. The directors of the Second National Bank attended in a body, as did the trustees of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, and a number of the members of the Oldest Inhabitants' Association and scores of representative Washington people paid the last tribute to their dead friend.

THE CASE OF MISS HARVELLE.

She Still Remains With Friends Away

Miss Marie Harvelle, an account of whose experiences since leaving her home, No. 1320 W street northwest, Thursday evening, has attracted considerable public notice, is said by persons who are in a position to know to be at the home of friends in this city, and there she will remain for an indefinite period.

Miss Marie was refused admission to the convent Saturday. She then found a refuge with a girl friend on K street, and there she remained until last evening, when she went to the house where she will make her nome for the present.

Mrs. Harvelle has, however, recovered Miss Marie's trunk, which for a couple of days was stored in an outbuilding belonging to William Farquhar's parents, the latter having refused on account of the sur-ter having refused on account of the surrounding circumstances to allow the trunk to be taken into the house or in any manner be responsible for its safety.

Last night a lady called at Mr. Farquhar's home and told him that she had a note from Miss Marie requesting him to deliver the trunk to the lady. Mr. Farquhar replied that if she had a note from Miss Marie to that effect she could take the trunk. The lady then called a man, who took the trunk in a push cart to Mrs. Harvelle's home.

Mrs. Harvelle was quite sick at home today, her illness being due, it was stated, to anxiety for her daughter and mortification on account of the publicity given to the affair. Her friends all expressed them-selves as quite sure she had not used the violent language attributed to her in the interview at police headquarters. One who has known her a long time told a Star reporter that Mrs. Harvelle was of a mild and even temper, and it was only in a moment of strong excitement that she could give way to such a passionate outburst as that described. Her friends also insist that Mrs. Harvelle hear never till treated her that Mrs. Harvelle has never ill-treated her daughter.

The Sisters of the Visitation, in charge of The Sisters of the Visitation, in charge of Georgetown Convent, write to The Star as follows: "The statement that Miss Marie Harvelle was taken to Georgetown Con-vent is a mistake. She is not there and never has been."

Mr. Farquhar. sr., was the victim of an

Mr. Farquhar, sr., was the victim of an unfortunate incident yesterday evening. During the day there were a number of visitors from out of town at his house, and while assisting them to the cars at 14th and U streets, where there was a large crowd of persons at the time, some one in the throng picked his pocket of $50 in money and several checks. The latter were not, however, indorsed, and payment on them was stopped this morning. Mr. Farquhar has no clew to the thief.

THE STEAMER "THREE FRIENDS."

Argument in the Case Heard by the Supreme Court. The United States Supreme Court today heard arguments in the case of the United States vs. the steamer Three Friends on the motion of the Attorney General for a certiorari for the circuit court of appeals for the fifth circuit to bring the case to the Supreme Court, the steamer having been libeled for condemnation on the charge of violating the neutrality laws controlling the relations between the United States and Spain. Assistant Attorney General Whitney made the first argument for the government. He began by stating the question briefly and then discussed at length the question of the nature of a recognition of belligerency. He explained the effect of the act of 1817 in the use of the words "colony, district or people." He said it was clear that they steamer had been owned and equipped to be employed against the Spanish authorities by the Cuban insurgents. He read extracts from the President's last message to show that sufficient recognition of the Cuban belligerents had been given by the executive to justify the courts in giving them their attention. The Florida district court had taken the position that it could not, under the statute, take such cognizance, but Mr. Whitney argued to the contrary. The only question, he said, was whether the statute was applicable for the reason that belligerency of the Cubans has not been formally recognized. It was true in the technical meaning of international law that the Cubans had not been recognized as belligerents, but even if this was the case there were other statutes concerning piracy and enlisting men for hystillites against a friendly power which were applicable. As a matter of fact, there was nothing in the statute to require a recognition of belligerency to set the law in motion. made the first argument for the govern-

THE NEW PARASOLS.

A Large and Distinguished Attendance at A Deep at the dainty sun protectors of the new season.

tive upon the fastidious ones to make their se lections at once befor season povelties are gone forever. The more beautiful and exclusive novelties, which are never duplicated, are always gobbled up quickly by the early comers. It seemed as if the manu-facturers had reached the limit of their ingenuity last year, but judging from the new ereations of Wm. H. Me-Knew, 983 Pa. ave., they have devised even

A brief description of some of the new sun-pro tectors which will be exhibited at McKnew's opening tomorrow will be interesting to the ac vance shoppers. A beautiful line of White Indi-Silk Parasols, with enameled sticks and frames opens the door to an exquisite line of grass line paresols, slik lined, all shades; pongee and figure china sliks. Dainty creations of changeable sliks with colored borders, white taffeta, striped sliks plaids and checks, in all colors, are marked $2.00. $2.75 seems extraordinarily reasonable for a hand-some line of grass linen "dainties," with insertion and all-over embroidery, silk lined, changeable silks, in all shades, self and contrasting borders, with enameled sticks to match. Fine imported novelties in coaching lace and chiffon trimmed, in black, white and colored effects, range in price up to $15.00. Sun Shades in large variety are shown at $1 to $5.00. The standard of quality of the parasols that will be exhibited by this well-prown bonne is usually considerably above the averknown house is usually considerably above the average-aud the qualities seem to be better for the figures quoted than in any former season.

The Charge Withdrawn. The excise board Saturday heard arguments for the reopening of the case of Richard Hall, 3254 M street northwest, whose application for a liquor license has been finally refused. A number of prominent business men in Georgetown joined in a petition to the excise board for a rehearing in the case. One of the charges was that he had sold liquor to minors, and this was based upon letters written to the board by Mrs. Mary Simmons. At the hearing Saturday morning Mrs. Simmons retracted the charge. The board took the case un-der consideration.

ANNEXATION SENTIMENT IN HAWAII Growing Number of Those Favoring

Political Union

From the Honolulu Commercial Gazette. Constant additions of prominent Hawaitans to the list of active annexationists shows what a little sober thought and careful study of what annexation means will do. Political prejudice has caused many to hold aloof, but the petty barriers are being broken down by this movement, carried on the broad lines laid down by the Annexa-tion Club. Throughout all the districts of the islands the steady growth of the annex-ation sentiment among all clans and class-es, irrespective of nationality or previous condition of political servitude, demoncondition of political servitude, demonstrates that the so-called opposition exists only among a few persons capable of talking vociferously, but really saying very little, and unable to present any sound arguments.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED.

Mr. Darlington Alleged to Have Wrongfully Received a Deposit. Ex-Representative Smedley Darlington of Pennsylvania has been arrested on a charge of embezziement arising from the financial troubles of the West Chester Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company, of which he was president before the recent appointment of receivers. The charge is preferred by Mrs. Mary A. Burnett of Malvern, who alleges that December 2 Darlington re-ceived from her a deposit of $1,300, knowing at the time that the company was insolvont.

Darlington was held in his own recognizance for a further hearing. The offense with which he is charged is punishable by a fine of double the amount received, and a fine of double the amount received, and imprisonment from one to three years.

Mr. Darlington declares that the prosecution is actuated by malice, and that the institution was solvent at the time specified. Mrs. Burnett's attorneys announce, on the other hand, that other arrests will follow. The receivers of the company have entered bond in $100,000.

Crisis in a Big Club. There is said to be a crisis in the affairs of the Manhattan Club, the leading democratic club of New York city. The expen of maintaining the club necessitated the doubling of the members' yearly dues two years ago, but this did not suffice, for it is said that last year the expenditures were $139,000, to meet which there were receipts of $114,000. John D. Crimmins, treasurer of the club, has now tendered his resignation to President F. R. Coudert.
